**MANDATORY** Chronic Wasting Disease Testing Stations

What is Chronic Wasting Disease? Chronic wasting disease, or CWD, is a fatal neurological disease that affects cervids, including white-tailed deer. It is found globally and in about half of the states in the U.S. CWD remains relatively rare in Minnesota at this time, but is a concern as there is currently no known cure. The DNR is working to limit its spread.

Changes for 2021 hunting season: CWD testing is mandatory in all disease zones the opening weekends of firearms A and B seasons. (Outside of opening weekends, voluntary sampling options are available for deer harvested in these zones.)

Several deer permit areas (184, 110, 197, a portion of deer permit area 169, 233 and 342) have been added to the surveillance zone.

Hunters must provide a sample from deer 1 year old or older within 24 hours of harvest during the opening weekend of Firearms season. In the East Central CWD surveillance zone that includes Deer Permit Areas 157, 159, 225, 235, and 236. If hunters want to voluntarily have their deer tested from those permit areas outside the Firearms opener contact your local Area Wildlife Office.
